MONSTER OF THE MONTH	PAGE 50

There are certain people out there (miserable people, who don't know how to have a good time and probably like train-spotting) who will tell you that the Pokémon phenomenon has run its course... but we're here to tell you otherwise.

Pokémon Stadium 2 finally hits the shelves this month and, as our special report on page 8 and review on page 12 will tell you, it's gonna go down a storm! Meanwhile, the little old Game Boy will be sparkling next month with the arrival of Pokémon Crystal, and Nintendo has recently made a succession of exciting announcements about the future of Pokémon. Believe us, there are some tempting treats on the horizon for Pokéfans – turn to Mew's News now and you'll see exactly what we mean!

It's enough to go to a Pokéfans' head, so just to keep your feet on the ground, we've packed the issue with all those POKÉMON WORLD favourites too.

There's four pages of Design A Monster entries, more questions answered by Pokémon academic Professor Yew, plenty of tasty competitions and the usual puzzles, posters and trading card news! Now, if you'll excuse me, I've got some 3D battling to be getting on with...

WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS

Season four of the ever-popular Pokémon cartoon has kicked off in America, and it's going by the name of Johto League Champions (a name that was rumoured to be the title for a new Pokémon game for the Game Boy Advance – whether that proves to be true remains to be seen!) The cartoon is currently airing on Kids WB! and should contain a huge 52 cool new episodes!

JAPAN GOES CUBE-SHAPED

Nintendo's next-gen console, GameCube, has finally hit the shelves in Japan, complete with some rather groovy launch games in the form of Wave Race and Luigi's Mansion – and we've played them! Sadly, POKEMON World hasn't got its own console (yet!) but the big boys in our office are already getting to grips with their funky purple box of delights and – of course – we muscled in and had a play. Trust us, when the GameCube comes to this country next year, you really are going to want one!

POKÉMON GO PORCELAIN!

ESTABLISHED COMPANY WADE Ceramics has recently released a new range of collectible figures, all of whom look strangely familiar! That's right, our Poké-pals have been preserved for eternity in porcelain, and if Wade's other products are anything to go by, they're likely to be pretty hot property!

Poliwhirl, Pikachu, Gengar, Jigglypuff and Psyduck all feature in this highly collectible set, and they look mighty fine! Priced at £8.99 per individually-boxed figure, they can be ordered by calling 01782 825666 – but thanks to the wonderfully generous people at Wade, we're going to give you a bit of a headstart in the collecting game, because we've got one of each of the five figures to give away! To stand a chance of winning one, just tell us what type of Pokémon Poliwhirl is. Is he:

- A. FIRE
- B. WATER
- C. PLASTICINE

When you think you know the answer, jot it down on a postcard and send it to the address below, making sure it reaches us no later than 15 November.

Send your entries to:

Wade Figures Competition, POKEMON WORLD,
Paragon Publishing, Paragon House,
St Peter's Road, Bournemouth, Dorset BH1 2JS

1. All entries must be received by 15 November 2001. 2. There is no cash alternative. 3. Editor's decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into. 4. No employee of Paragon Publishing or any company with products on offer within this competition is eligible to enter. 5. Only one entry per person. 6. By entering, competitors agree to be bound by the rules and requirements of the competition. 7. You may be sent news about products and opportunities from related companies. Weedle's Wicked Web Site

Name: Pokémon Stadium 2 Official Site
URL: www.pokemonstadium.com

WEEDLE'S BEEN GETTING very excited about the arrival of Pokémon Stadium 2 in the UK this month, so he wriggled off to the official US Web site for the game to have a snout around. There's certainly plenty there to get to grips with too. Budding trainers can put together their very own top team and enter the 'Colosseum', whilst newcomers to the game will find a basic guide to give them all the info they need. Head off on a tour of White City, check out movie clips of the game or just soak up all the glorious pictures of all those lovely Pokémon in 3D at the on-site gallery, which is hosted by our favourite baby monster, Pichu.

Whether you're still itching to get your hands on the game, or have a copy and want a few hints and tips, this site will make sure you're ready for battle when the time comes!

Mew's News

PHIEW. WHAT A MONTH IT'S BEEN! WE'VE HAD TO EXTEND THE NEWS JUST TO MAKE ROOM FOR ALL THE EXCITING EVENTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS THAT HAVE TAKEN PLACE OVER THE LAST FEW WEEKS. I HAVEN'T EVEN HAD TIME TO START PLANNING MY HALLOWEEN OUTFIT YET, THAT'S HOW BUSY I'VE BEEN, AND I REFUSE TO LET THAT HAUNTER BEAT ME IN THE SPOOKY STAKES THIS YEAR. RIGHT. I'M OFF...

CRYSTAL CRACKS IT

POKÉMON CRYSTAL HAS kept up the excellent sales record of Pokémon games in the States by selling through nearly 600,000 games in its first two weeks of availability. Crystal hits the UK shelves on 16 November, and is expected to go down just as well with Pokéfans over here too! So far, Pokémon games have sold more than 85 million copies worldwide and, over in the States, three of the four hottest-selling titles in the games industry are Pokémon products! It's nice to know that so many people have such fine taste!

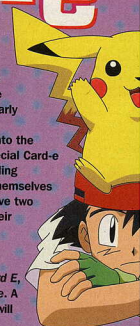

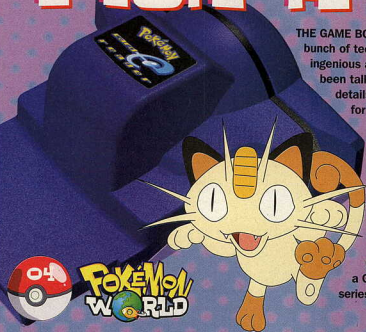

Pick A Card-e

THE GAME BOY Advance has presented gamers with a whole bunch of technological advancements, but perhaps none so ingenious as the Card-e Reader. Here at POKÉMON WORLD, we've been talking about this cool little gadget for months, but the details are finally in, and they're pretty exciting - particularly for Pokémon fans!

The Card-e Reader is a nifty device that slots into the back of the Advance and, with one swipe of a special Card-e Trading Card, unlocks a host of new features, adding another dimension to your gameplay. The cards themselves look much like a normal trading card, but they have two dot matrix codes along the bottom and side of their face, which provide all the data for character animation and mini-games.

But the best is yet to come, because the first Card-e Reader compatible game will be Pokémon Card E, a GBA update of the GBC's Pokémon Trading Card Game. A series of cards will be available and, when scanned, they will

HONEY I'VE SHRUNK THE POKÉMON!

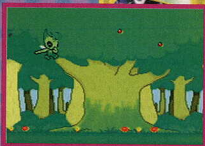

NINTENDO HAS ANNOUNCED a brand-new baby console designed just for Pokéfans, which will be hitting the shelves in 2002. The Pokémon mini will use interchangeable cartridges, just like the Game Boy, but is less than half the size of a Game Boy Advance, measuring in at a tiny 74mm height x 58mm width x 23mm depth.

When the Pokémon mini is launched, gamers will be able to choose from one of four cartridges, which between them offer a huge variety of gameplay options. Pokémon Party mini is the perfect choice for the athletic Pokéfan, letting you run, jump, dance and play with all your favourite Pokémon. Meanwhile, Pokémon Pinball also gets the mini treatment, with a wee version of the popular retro classic which utilises a built-in rumble feature that will ensure you have all the excitement at your fingertips! Other games include Pokémon Zany Cards (temporary name), a card-playing game that includes all your favourite Pokémon, all ready for a challenge, and Pokémon Puzzle Collection (temporary name), which includes a huge selection of 80 puzzles!

This fantastic little console has loads of cool new features to enhance gameplay further, including the built-in rumble feature and a shock sensor, which activates an action when you shake your Pokémon mini, in a similar way to the Kirby Tilt 'n' Tumble technology. There's also an infrared port, a real-time clock on a selection of titles and even a Celebi stopwatch for use in Pokémon Party mini – and all on a console that weighs in at 70g, and will fit in the tiniest of pockets!

Pokémon mini.

provide Pokémaniacs with cool information on their favourite monsters and handy hints on game tactics. Most importantly, though, fans will be able to play games on the Game Boy Advance, just from swiping what looks like a plain old trading card.

If it all sounds a bit hi-tech, don't worry – the Card-e Reader will actually be incredibly easy to use, and should give us plenty of juicy Pokéfun when it is released next year. Until then, we'll just have to stick to our standard trading cards and Game Boy games – pah!

THEY MAY STILL be red-faced and panting from kicking up a storm in our cinemas, but Ash and his Poképal are already planning their next all-action assault – in our living rooms!

Pokémon 3 is now available to buy on video and DVD, and it's an essential Poképurchase! Those of you who saw the film in the cinema will know that it is a roller coaster ride, but for anyone who didn't catch it, now is the time to find out what you were missing. Join Ash, Misty and the crew as they search for the Unown, those mysterious Pokémon who have the ability to turn the dreams of humans into reality. With the help of his friends, Ash must rescue a young orphan from the mystical forces that threaten to transform her life into a dream world prison – and bring back his mother from the realm of the Unown too!

INTO THE UNOWN

Our red-hatted chum certainly has his work cut out, and faces a challenge far greater than any Pokémon battle he has faced before. It's the animated adventure of a lifetime and, even more exciting, the video and DVD also include the 22-minute mini-feature Pikachu and Pichu.

Priced at £14.99 for the VHS and £19.99 for the super-spangly DVD, Pokémon 3 is definitely worth saving your pocket money for! However, thanks to the lovely people at Warner Home Video, we've got ten copies of the video to give away. All you need to do is tell us what the Unown Pokémon are shaped like. Is it:

TOP OF THE TOYS

THE RESULTS of the Duracell European Toy Survey 2001 were recently announced, and Pokémon on the Game Boy topped the lot! Beating off competition from the likes of Lego and Tiger's interactive toys, Pokémon was voted as the most popular toy for 2001 in the UK, from a shortlist of 14 different products.

The Duracell Toy Survey is seen as a guide to the hottest toys for Christmas, so Nintendo will no doubt be jolly pleased to hear that

Pokémon is the national favourite. Children taking part in the survey commented that they find Pokémon on the Game Boy challenging and adventurous, and admitted that they love anything to do with Pokémon! One rather interesting variation was spotted in the survey, however – it seems that whilst Game Boy was the choice of the chaps, the ladies' favourite actually turned out to be the Hasbro Chocolate Factory! Honestly girls, we're ashamed of you – although it does sound rather scrumptious...

CELEBI ARRIVES

LAST MONTH'S CELEBI TOUR GAVE POKÉMANIACS A RARE OPPORTUNITY TO GET THEIR HANDS ON THE 251ST POKÉMON, AND SAMPLE THE 3D DELIGHTS OF STADIUM 2. POKÉMON WORLD WAS, OF COURSE, FIRST IN THE QUEUE...

LAST ISSUE WE brought you exciting news of the Pokémon Celebi Tour that was touring the country in August, carrying a rather special cargo, and this month we're back with a full report. The giant Pokémon truck stopped at five Toys 'R' Us stores across the country, and offered visitors the chance to try their hand at forthcoming N64 title Pokémon Stadium 2 – and download the mysterious time-travelling Pokémon Celebi.

The POKÉMON WORLD team caught up with the tour in Bristol, and with our Celebi safely downloaded, merrily clutching our authenticity certificate, we were treated to a veritable Pokéfest of face-painting, colouring-in... and, of course, gaming. During the day, a competition was held to find a Stadium 2 champion. 64 players qualified, and were given a Celebi cartridge and the honorary title of Nintendo Official Celebi Distributor. Those 64 players were eventually reduced to just four and, after much sweating, just one – 15-year-old Sam Answorth, who received a trophy and special N64 Pikachu. The prizes didn't stop there though, because all 64 finalists from each location were also given the opportunity to enter a prize draw, provided they exchanged all 20 Celebi on their cartridge, with the stupendous prize of £2,510 (251 Pokémon. Think about it...) to spend in Toys 'R' Us and a whole bundle of goodies from the Pokémon Centre in Japan!

As you can imagine, excitement on the day was pretty high, but we managed to calm a few Pokéfans down for long enough to ask them just what they thought of Pokémon Stadium 2...

Name: Catherine

Age: 18

Favourite Pokémon: Charmander
Views on Stadium 2: The game is really good. I haven't tried the mini-games yet, but it's really good. I haven't played the first one, but it's a great game as it stands.

Name: Scott

Age: 10

Favourite Pokémon: The new ones
Views on Stadium 2: I've got Red, Blue, Pinball, Silver and Stadium. Stadium 2 is great – it's a bit better than the original, I like the fact that it has all the new Pokémon in it.

Name: Jonathan

Age: 15

Favourite Pokémon: Pikachu

Views on Stadium 2: I've got Red, Blue, Yellow and Gold, and I've played both versions of Pokémon Stadium. I think the second is a lot better than the original.

POKÉMON
WORLD

THE HOME OF VIDEOGAMES HAS A FULL POKÉMON MINI-SITE WITH REVIEWS, TIPS, CHEATS AND A GIANT POKÉDEX FOR ALL FANS OF POKÉMON!

Name: David
Age: 7
Favourite Pokémon: Undecided
Views on Stadium 2: I thought it was better than the first Stadium – I like all the Gold and Silver Pokémon.

Name: Ryan and Daryl
Age: 11 (Ryan) and 8 (Daryl)
Favourite Pokémon: Lugia is wicked!
Views on Stadium 2: We've got Pokémon Blue, Red, Yellow and Silver, and Stadium 2 is wicked. It's better than the last one – we like the Pokémon better.

Name: Robert and Ian
Age: 12 (Robert) and 15 (Ian)
Favourite Pokémon: Mew (Robert); The Unown, because they're really mysterious (Ian) Views on Stadium 2: We've been playing the mini-games – they're really good. It's much better than the original.

WIN A Special Edition Micro Scooter

COMPETITION EXTENDED!

REGULAR POKÉMON WORLD readers no doubt have spotted that we offered our readers the chance to win this fantastic special edition Gold and Silver micro scooter last month. However, because it's such a completely brilliant prize, we've decided to EXTEND the closing date to give those of you that missed it last month the opportunity to enter!

Provided by the lovely people at Nintendo to celebrate the launch of Pokémon Stadium 2, this superb scooter will send you whizzing past your friends in the cool stakes, and all you need to do to stand a chance of winning is answer this incredibly easy question!

Q: WHICH OF THESE IS NOT A POKÉMON GAME:

- A. GOLD C. RED
B. SILVER D. LILAC

When you think you know the answer, scribble it on a postcard and send it to Scooter Competition, POKÉMON WORLD, Paragon Publishing, Paragon House, St Peter's Road, Bournemouth, Dorset BH1 2JS, making sure it reaches us no later than 15 November – and that's final!

1. All entries must be received by 15 November 2001

POPSTARS EXTRA

HERE AT POKÉMON WORLD, we're in love with Hear 'n' Say. Jem falls into a trance at the slightest mention of Suzanne, and the normally level-headed Russ has spent hours perfecting his dance routine to Pure and Simple.

That's why we've done a bit of a deal with the top people at Granada Video and VCI to give you the chance to get your hands on their brand-new video, Popstars Extra, absolutely free! It's packed with over 90 minutes of interviews, music and footage, and gives you the chance to see Noel, Danny, Myleene, Kym and Suzanne talking frankly about their incredible journey to stardom. Find out just how the band really feel about everything from the Popstars judges to the antics of their old pal Darius, and check out all the hard work that went into making them pop's biggest phenomenon!

The video is in the shops now priced £12.99, with a DVD also available for £14.99. However, thanks to the great people at Granada Video/VCI, ten lucky POKÉMON WORLD readers can win it just by telling us what the name was of the 'nasty' judge with the dubious hairdo on the Popstars panel. Was it:

- A. NIGEL
- B. NOEL
- C. NORRIS

When you think you know the answer, jot it down on a postcard and send it to the address below, making sure it reaches us no later than 15 November.

SCOOBY DOO AND THE CYBER CHASE

WITH HALLOWEEN JUST around the corner, there's only one team to turn to for a spook-filled dose of scary adventure, and that's Scooby and the gang. Luckily, Scooby Doo and the Cyber Chase will be in the shops from 22 October on VHS and DVD, and it's the most frighteningly funny Scooby outing ever.

The hi-jinks begin when the gang pay a visit to old school chum Eric Staufer, who has invented a Hyper-Laser capable of moving people and objects between the real world and cyberspace. Sounds like a recipe for disaster if ever there was one, and sure enough a phantom virus is released during testing which embarks on a path of terror that ultimately leads to Scooby and the gang getting locked in a cyberworld! Zoiks!

If you fancy watching the gang do the digital do in this full-length mystery, the video and DVD are available from 22 October at £12.99 and £15.99 respectively. However, thanks to the lovely people at Warner Home Video, we've got ten VHS copies to give away. All you need to do is tell us the name of Scooby's irksome little nephew. Is it:

- A. SHIFTY DOO
- B. SLOPPY DOO
- C. SCRAPPY DOO

When you think you know the answer, jot it down on a postcard and send it to the address below, making sure it reaches us no later than 15 November.

Send your entries, labelled 'Scooby Doo Competition' or 'Popstars Competition' to:

(4) No employee of Paragon Publishing or any company with products on offer within this competition is eligible to enter. (5) Only one entry per person. (6) By entering, competitors agree to be bound by the rules and requirements of the competition. (7) You may be sent news about products and opportunities from related companies. If you do not wish to receive such information, please indicate as such on your competition entry.

POKÉMON

IT'S FINALLY HERE!

NOW YOU CAN SEE WHAT YOUR CAREFULLY REARED GOLD AND SILVER MONSTERS LOOK LIKE IN GLORIOUS 3D - HURRAH!

YOU KNOW THE SCORE...

OKAY, LET'S FACE it, you hardly need us to tell you what this is all about, do you? After all, it's not like you've been living on the moon, have you? We... huh? Sorry? Hang on a mo...

Right, Karen says we can't assume that you've all played the first game and as she runs POKÉMON WORLD with an iron fist, we'd better do as we're told, so once again, listen up at the back...

Basically, the original Pokémon Stadium was designed to give all those Game Boy-owning Pokémon fanatics out there the chance to bring their lovingly cultivated Pokémon onto the big screen. This came about through the little transfer pak thingy that plugs into an N64 controller. With this, and a copy of Pokémon Stadium, any trainer who felt like it could battle their favourite monsters in all-singing, all-dancing 3D. The result was fantastic and saved thousands of Pokémon obsessed Game Boy owners from permanent eyestrain. The only catch is that the new Gold and Silver games won't work with the original Stadium which is why now... (drum roll please) the sequel has arrived!

STADIUM 2

TRAINING TIME

THE GENERAL ASSUMPTION with the first Pokémon Stadium was that you'd have played the Game Boy titles before you tackled the N64 version. This left you at a slight disadvantage if you didn't have any experience of the handheld versions. However, Pokémon Stadium 2 offers a lot more in the way of help for those new to the whole Pokémon phenomenon (like there's many of those people around!) and this is evident in several areas. The tutorial sections are very comprehensive, starting with the absolute basics and working up to advanced battle tactics which even experienced Pokémon fanatics might well find handy. This is all done in good old Earl's Pokémon Academy, where plump, moustachioed Earl tells you all that you need to know.

Another helpful addition since the first game is the option to get explanations of all the moves available during battles at just the touch of a button, which is incredibly handy if you're a newbie.

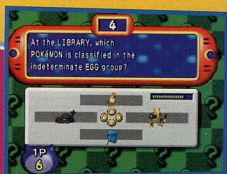

POKÉMON STADIUM 2

QUIZ TIME!

YES POKÉFANS, FORGET Who Wants To Be A Millionaire?, forget Catchphrase, forget even Wheel Of Fortune with Nicky Campbell (what do you mean, Nicky who?) because if you're a fan of Pokémon (and let's face it, why else would you be reading this magazine?) then we've got the only quiz you'll ever need!

This is another of the extra bits that has been added since the original Pokémon Stadium. The quiz comes in three flavours: Easy, Normal or Hard. The Easy mode is... well, rather easy, the Normal is a bit trickier and the Hard... well, you can probably guess! Each question offers you a choice of four answers represented by a specific Pokémon. This can actually help with some of the questions (like which is red on top and blue on the bottom – easy-peasy unless you happen to be colour-blind!) but a lot of the questions are considerably more testing and often require knowledge of the Game Boy Pokémon titles for you to succeed.

POKÉPARTY!

AIN'T NO PARTY like a Poképarty... er, anyway, for those of you not really 'into' the N64, there have been three Mario Party games on the console, each of which was basically a board game with umpteen little mini-games to play. In the original Stadium title there were a few mini-games similar to those in Mario Party, but Pokémon Stadium 2 offers no less than 12 different ones! The highlights are Barrier Ball – a kind of four-player version of Pong using Pokéballs as... er, balls – and Rampage Rollout, which is a top-down viewed racing game that is surprisingly addictive! All the games can be played by up to four people, and you can tackle them individually or in a tournament. They're all fairly simple, and probably won't keep you hooked forever, but they do serve as a nice break between battles.

LAB-TASTIC!

COME UP TO the lab... and see what's on the slab! Ah, the Rocky Horror Show, those were the days... er, right, Professor Oak's Laboratory. Which has absolutely nothing to do with The Rocky Horror Show. Ah well...

This wouldn't be a Pokémon game if Professor Oak didn't pop up somewhere along the way, and sure enough he makes an appearance not far from the stadium itself. In his legendary lab, budding trainers can take advantage of a Pokémon trading facility, and a Pokédex which lets you study the various different creatures that you've ambushed on your travels. However, the advantage of the N64 Pokédex is that the creatures are all pictured in glorious animated 3D!

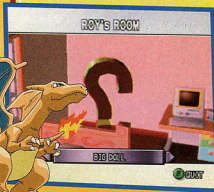

POKÉMON STADIUM 2

BETTER HOMES

ANOTHER ADDITION TO Pokémon Stadium 2 over Pokémon Stadium is the bedroom section. Yes, you heard right: there's a bedroom in the game! It's not really clear exactly why this is in here, except as another collecting element, but basically it's like this: as you play through the Gold and Silver games on the Game Boy Color, you often find yourself coming across various different items of furniture and other bits and pieces. By connecting the Game Boy game to the N64 one through the transfer pak, you can use these looted items to redecorate the 3D room, effectively just like having your own Changing Rooms show! Quite whether this actually has an effect on the rest of the game... well, we couldn't see any, but maybe if you manage to completely fill the bedroom you get some kind of bonus... we'll leave it down to you to investigate!

SUMMARY

SO, THE BIG question: Is it any good? Sorry, that is: IS IT ANY GOOD? And the answer? Well... yes, of course! While Pokémon Stadium 2, on the surface, appears to be simply a polished version of Pokémon Stadium, it actually has a number of enhancements which make it far superior. The addition of the in-battle moves explanations helps new players and more experienced combatants alike, as there are so many moves that there's just no way you'll be able to remember them all. It's also handy that, in addition to letting you access monsters from the Pokémon Gold and Silver games, Stadium 2 also lets you transfer Pokémon from the older Red, Blue and Yellow titles, which is great for Pokémaniacs who own all the versions! The mini-games make for a nice break from the standard battling, and there are enough different tournament modes to challenge even the most accomplished Pokémon master. If you've got an N64, you'll definitely want to get this game!

SCORE 5/5

NOW WIN IT!

From 19 October, Pokémon Stadium 2 could be yours for the handsome price of £49.99 – or it could be yours for NOW! That's right folks, thanks to the wonderful people at Gametron Exchange, who supply the gaming public with import and pal games (check out www.gametron-exchange.co.uk for more information), we've got FIVE copies to give away!

All you need to do to stand a chance of winning this 3D Pokéfest is tell us whose Pokémon Academy you can visit in the game. Is it:

- A. BOB'S
- B. EARI'S
- C. PEARL'S

When you think you know the answer, scribble it on a postcard and send it to the address below, making sure that it reaches us by no later than 15 November. Good luck!

DECISIONS, DECISIONS...

AS IN THE Game Boy Color Pokémon games, in Pokémon Stadium 2 you can have up to six different Pokémon in your party. The catch, though, is that each time you go into a battle you can only choose three of the six to face off against the enemy creatures. This is actually a fairly important point, as your choice of which three Pokémon to field can seriously affect the tide of the battle – if you're not careful, you may inadvertently choose Pokémon who are fairly ineffective against specific opponents, and it's then that you find yourself in trouble! The important thing to remember is to take your time choosing the Pokémon you want to take part, paying careful attention to the ones you could be facing – although admittedly this is partly down to luck, as you won't know which creatures your opponent is fielding until you actually reach the arena. It's important to have a decent variety of Pokémon in your party, though, so that you stand a good chance of thwarting most threats.

LITTLE COMPUTER PEOPLE

NOW OBVIOUSLY Pokémon Gold and Pokémon Silver were designed to be played on the Game Boy Color. However, like its predecessor, Pokémon Stadium 2 offers you the chance to play the GBC versions of the game through a special emulator which is built into the N64 code. What this means is that you don't have to spend the whole time squinting at a little screen, so if you fancy a break from the big 3D battles you can dabble in the RPG/adventure-type gameplay of the Game Boy version instead. An added bonus is that if you do well in the Pokémon quiz sections of Pokémon Stadium 2, you will earn yourself coins which can then be spent in the Game Boy game – a great way of buying yourself some handy items!

GOOD VALUE

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
Hiya! I bought your magazine for the first time and I am really impressed. It's so hard to find an all-Pokémon magazine! I would be very grateful if you keep updating the lists of the value of the Pokémon battling cards. I think it is really good, and a very useful page to have!

Thank you!

Latifa Alcaiy, Country Antrim

Glad you like the mag, Latifa - we aim to please! Certainly, we have every intention of continuing to print the price list for trading cards, and will update it whenever we can. You'll no doubt have noticed that last month we extended the section to include the Neo Genesis cards - as soon as we have some information on values for the new Neo Discovery expansion, we'll be putting that in too so keep reading, and we'll keep you informed!

WIDE BOY

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
What I want to know is, does the Game Boy Advance use Game Boy Color games or another type of game?
Janus Zurbanski

The Game Boy Advance has special games that are designed specifically for it, Janus. However, it's so incredibly impressive that it will ALSO play Game Boy Color

LOOKING FOR A PENPAL?

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,

Please would it be possible for me to have my details published in your magazine, because I would like a penpal. I am seven years of age and like Pokémon (of course), playing on my PlayStation and animals, mainly dogs. I would like a boy between the ages of seven and eight who could write to me about the same hobbies as I like.

Yours faithfully,

Joshua Patterson, 29 Pilton Place, King and Queen Street, London SE17 1DN

We like to think of ourselves as nice, friendly people (we ARE, okay?) so we're only too happy to help put Pokéfans in touch with each other. If you want to start writing to other Pokémaniacs, drop us a line at the usual address and we'll publish your details. And if Joshua sounds like somebody you'd like to get to know, why not scribble him a letter right away?

games - AND it gives you the option to play them in widescreen, to fill the screen, or at their regular Game Boy Color screen size, with just a quick toggle of the shoulder buttons. Pretty cool, eh?

SONY STORY

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
I would like to know why there are no Pokémon PlayStation games. I've always wanted a Nintendo, but my parents won't give me one. All I've got is a PlayStation.
Yours faithfully,
Danielle Hackett, Downton

There's a very easy answer to that question, Danielle. Pokémon was actually created by Game Freak for Nintendo, so as far as games companies go, Nintendo has the rights to every last bit of it. The PlayStation is, of course, host to those other little monsters (whisper it) Digimon (booooo) but you'll never see the day when our little pocket pals appear on a Sony console. Our advice is to make your mum and dad lots of extra cups of tea over the next few months, and see if you can't convince them to get you a GameCube when it comes out next year!

LAUGHTER-FILE

This month's cracker was sent to us by Alistair Rigby from Wigan! We love a good laugh (and Jem's hair can only amuse us for so long) so please keep them coming!

ASK Professor YEW

WELL WELL WELL, WHAT A BUSY MONTH IT'S BEEN SINCE LAST I FACED YOUR POKÉMON INTERROGATIONS. I THOUGHT FOR A BRIEF MOMENT THAT I HAD DISCOVERED AN ENTIRELY NEW POKÉMON, BUT IT TURNED OUT TO BE A RABBIT WITH ONE LEG. HO HUM, ON WITH ANSWERING YOUR QUESTIONS. WHO'S FIRST UP?

POKÉMON HELD HOSTAGE!

HI PROFESSOR YEW!

Which Pokémon can't you catch in Pokémon Crystal? Is there going to be a Pokémon Pinball 2 game? And do you know when the 100 new Pokémon are going to be released?

Louise

Well, Louise, Why? Who's holding the 100 Pokémon hostage? Anyone holding their breath for 100 new Pokémon will suffocate very quickly. There are three top secret new monsters on the horizon - Ruriri, Kakureon and Hoeruko. There may not be 100 Pokémon left to discover at all, that is just a rumour - don't bet on there ever being more than 254! Another Pokémon Pinball game hasn't been mentioned by Nintendo, and is very unlikely (what more can you do with the idea?!). And finally, Pokémon Crystal is much the same as Gold and Silver, so about the same amount of monsters will be missing. It's not certain yet which ones, though. It's no big deal, I already have them all.

N-EEVEE-R HAPPY

DEAR PROFESSOR YEW.

In issue 8 you said how to get the different Eevee evolutions, and when I did it and took your advice, instead of getting a Fire, Water or Thunder Stone I got an Ever Stone! Please tell me how to get it right! On top of that, can you tell me how to get Ho-oh in Silver?

Laurie Blackman, Cambridge

Well, Laurie, I never said any such thing! Those other scoundrels at Pokémon World did! But if you are on the hunt for the said stones, then I can help. The Fire, Water and Thunderstones are enclosed in a Mystery Gift on Route 25. Sadly, this means you don't have the option on which stone to use, but wait to receive the Rainbow Wing in Pewter City (just as Gold players must wait for the Silver Wing!) before heading off for the Tin Tower in Eruka City.

AHH... SWEET MUSIC

DEAR PROFESSOR YEW.

On my Gold version I'm having problems getting the Poké Flute. I cannot find Starmie and I cannot move the man in Lavender Town's Radio Station. I would appreciate any help you can give me, and may I take this opportunity to say how much I enjoy your magazine.

Joshua Watkin, Worcester

Well, Josh, if I may call you that, The Poké Flute was in the Red, Blue and Yellow version, not Gold and Silver, although you should be able to use the radio in Kanto to tune to Poké Flute songs, which work in the same way. There are heaps of Staryus available in watery places like Route 19, and Starmies evolve from them. As for that chap in the Radio Station, if the power has been resorted and he's still there, don't worry. The only thing you need from here is the Expn Card.

ASK PROFESSOR YEW

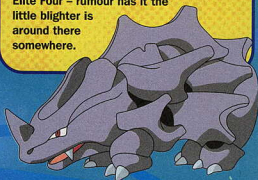

OH. MY ISLAND IN THE SUN

Q

DEAR PROFESSOR YEW.
Hi! I'm Luke and this time I've got two questions. Question one is, how do you get Lugia on Gold, if you can get it on Gold? And question two, how do you get Silver Rhyhorn on Gold or Silver? Well, that's it from me for now. See you later, Luke, Birmingham

A

Well, Luke, Of course you can catch Lugia in the Gold game. However, first you have to get the Silver Wing in Pewter City, which can take a while. Once you've done that, return to Whirl Islands and head for the north-east island. Here you'll need to take the ladder to the north-east in the first cave, then follow the ridge south to another ladder, before surfing south to Lugia's chamber. He's a tricky customer though, so keep plenty of big Pokéballs with you! As for Silver Rhyhorn, try heading for Victory Road, where you go in order to reach the Elite Four - rumour has it the little blighter is somewhere.

OUCH. MY HEAD!

Q

DEAR PROFESSOR YEW.

Please can you tell me where you find Heracross? I know you find him in mountain areas and you have to headbutt trees. Me and my friend Ben have tried everything so please can you tell me where he is found?
Matthew Charlton

A

Well, Matthew, I found my Heracross on Mt Mortar - very quickly, I have to say. Forgive me for asking, but did you check every tree at least fifty times? That's the most tiresome thing about these fictionalised little adventures - it's all random, and you have to do the same thing over and over again, so get headbanging up on Mt Mortar and you'll soon fill your Pokédex!

DON'T BELIEVE THE HYPE

DEAR PROFESSOR YEW.

I'm playing Pokémon Silver and a friend told me how to get Celebi. Unfortunately, you have to get the GS Ball. Where do you get this? Also, he said you find Celebi in Goldenrod Radio Tower, but where? Is this cheat true?
Rebecca Marsh, Cheshire

Well, Rebecca, For the six million, five thousand and twenty-eighth time, the only way you can get Celebi is directly from Nintendo - or, of course, from someone else who has downloaded Celebi already and is happy to trade. Your friend is a liar. Taunt them.

Well, I'm knackered, quite frankly, after all that inquisition. If your thirst for Pokémon knowledge isn't yet sated, then I suppose you can keep the questions coming in for me at this address. See you next month!

SUPER TRAINER SHOWDOWN

ON 15 SEPTEMBER, ALL THE UK'S BEST POKÉMON TRADING CARD PLAYERS ATTENDED THE FINALS OF THE SUPER TRAINER SHOWDOWN. POKÉMON WORLD WAS THERE TO CATCH ALL THE ACTION!

THE VENUE

THORPE PARK IN Chertsey was chosen as the location for this year's finals, and what a spectacular venue it was. The amusement park has got some of the UK's best roller coasters and water rides, making it a perfect background for all the Pokémon action. Around the park there are loads of fun rides and amusement centres filled with all the latest arcade machines suitable for children of all ages. Of course, we took the time to have a go on all the best rides [I'll bet you did! - Ed] whilst waiting for the finals to start. It was great fun - but we felt a bit sick afterwards!

TURNOUT

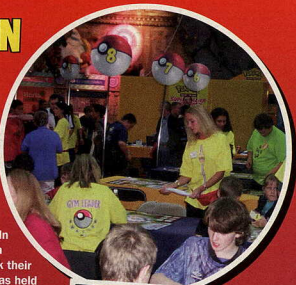

UNFORTUNATELY, THE DAY did not quite go to plan, as a number of participants failed to turn up for the event. Of the 270 players that were invited to take part, less than half actually showed on the day, mostly due to the recent events in America. We spoke to Carl Crooks, the head judge for the day, who commented: "A lot of parents did not want their children going to America for the world finals and so decided not to attend to avoid any disappointments." This was obviously a great shame, but the event went ahead with those players that did make it and the action was no less thrilling.

THE ACTION

THE DAY STARTED bright and early at 9 o'clock, with all the players having some warm-up games and racking up a few points to take them to the final stages of the event. Each player had their own different styles and techniques, and a number of unique decks were used, incorporating the best cards from Team Rocket, Gym Heroes and the Neo expansions. In the afternoon the action got even more intense, as the players took their places for the grand final. This was held over five rounds, with points being awarded for wins. This method ensured no one got lucky and that only the very best Pokémon Masters could win on the day.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THIS COMPETITION, new rules were put into place to try and make the game as fair as possible for everyone. The competition allowed players to use Modified Team Rocket format decks with no more than four of any non-basic Energy cards. The following expansions were permitted for use under this format:

TEAM ROCKET
GYM HEROES
GYM CHALLENGE
NEO GENESIS
NEO DISCOVERY

WINNERS' CIRCLE

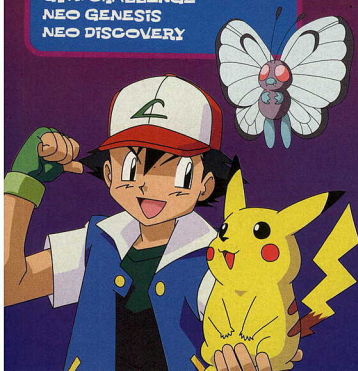

AFTER THE DAY'S intense competition, the winners stood proud to receive their prizes. Neo Discovery boosters were handed out to the winners and those who came first gained entry to the World Championships taking place in America. The winners were as follows:

10 & UNDER AGE GROUP

- 1ST AMY CLARKE (Age 8)
- 2ND TOMMY ROBERTS (Age 8)
- 3RD PETER BOX (Age 9)
- 4TH SOPHIE EDNEY (Age 10)

11 - 14 AGE GROUP

- 1ST YI-AN LU (Age 12)
- 2ND SCOTT LINGER (Age 14)
- 3RD MATTHEW PESKETT (Age 14)
- 4TH SAMI SEKKOURN (Age 11)

OTHER NEWS

More hot cards are on the horizon for UK Pokémon players, including the new Southern Islands Collector's Set. Check out the very latest additions to the Pokémon Trading Card Game.

SOUTHERN ISLANDS COLLECTOR'S SET

THE UK LANGUAGE version of the Southern Islands Collector's Set is soon to become available and it includes some very special rare cards. The set features 18 brand-new cards, a special binder, six Pokémon postcards and Neo boosters. This fantastic set is sure to be a big hit with collectors.

The cards included are as follows:

- Mew (Holographic)
- Togepi (Holographic)
- Ledyba (Holographic)
- Marill (Holographic)
- Slowking (Holographic)
- Vileplume (Holographic)
- Primeape
- Pidgeot

CARD-E READER

NINTENDO HAS TEAMED up with Olympus and Wizards of the Coast to produce the Card-e Reader. This small device will attach to the Game Boy Advance and will read the bar codes on special Pokémon trading cards. These cards have not been released at this time, but they will also be able to be used when playing the Pokémon Trading Card Game. This device looks wicked and has been designed to open a lot of secret doors with the new cards. For more information check out Mews News over on page 4.

UNOWN PROMO

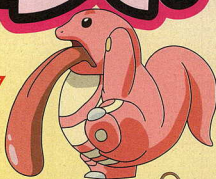

THE THIRD POKÉMON movie is now available to own in the UK, and with it will come another amazing Promo card. The card is Unown J, to go along with the other Unown letters from the Neo Discovery expansion. Look out for the DVD and VHS release in the shops now and make sure you don't miss out!

PRICE GUIDE!

Even the cleverest collectors don't always know how much their cards are worth, so we're here to help with a huge UK value guide!

GAMEBOY ADVANCE

ANOTHER MONTH IN THE WORLD OF GAME BOY ADVANCE.
ANOTHER RUNDOWN OF THE BEST GAMES MONEY CAN BUY
FOR THE GROOVY HANDHELD CONSOLE.

NEWS

AT THE RECENT Nintendo Spaceworld show in sunny old Japan, Mr Miyamoto and his programming buddies announced which upcoming games we could expect to play our friends at without having to fork out for another copy. The list so far includes fantastic titles such as Super Mario Advance 2, Street Fighter Zero 3, Columns, Puyo Puyo and Sonic Advance. Sounds pretty good to us! We can't wait for this pocket money-saving masterplan to come into effect with a whole host of Game Boy Advance games. Well done Nintendo!

MARIO KART SUPER CIRCUIT

PUBLISHERNINTENDO
PRICE£34.99

ANYONE WHO'S ANYONE has played Mario Kart, right? The game that makes all videogame fans go weak at the knees, ten years after it first appeared on the ancient SNES, has become one of the most eagerly-awaited Advance games so far! Thankfully, then, it doesn't disappoint, seeing as it's positively crammed with the features and frighteningly addictive gameplay that made its 16-bit predecessor so gosh-darned popular. As before you can race in 50, 100 or, if you're very good, 150cc karts around a multitude of colourfully bonkers courses, nabbing opponents with various weapons like Banana Skins and the good old homing Tortoise Shell Missile. Hurray!

If anything, the graphical side of Mario Kart Super Circuit is superior to the SNES original! The spot effects, such as falling lava obstacles and massive jumps, are pretty impressive, and when you pick up one of those handy Turbo Mushrooms, the whole thing zips along at a fair old rate of knots. Those gaming gurus at Nintendo have once again proved that when it comes to handheld games, they rule! Even though the game's not got a great deal new to offer, the original title's more than enough to keep all you Game Boy Advance owners happy – in fact, you'll be playing till the cows come home!

JURASSIC PARK: DNA

PUBLISHERKONAMI
PRICE£34.99

Dinosaurs had it all at one stage: they ruled the planet, lumbered from one continent to the next and were the top of the food chain for some time. Now that they've appeared on the GBA, things could be quite different though.

Jurassic Park: DNA is a hoppy-skippy scrolling platformer, which sees you guiding a scientist chap through dino-infested forests and suchlike, collecting canisters of precious dino DNA for research purposes. It's all very standard stuff, and although the graphics are okay, most players will rely on the continues the game provides to get anywhere – which gets quite annoying. In short, if you really have to have a dino game for the Game Boy Advance, this would appear to be your best option, but it's only an average platformer at the end of the day.

The new ADDAMS FAMILY

DEVELOPERMICROIDS
PRICE£2599

ANOTHER GROUND-BREAKING GBC release from Microids, The New Addams Family adventure is a really great spooky game for Halloween. The Addams Family are about to be evicted by a real-estate promoter who wants to turn the family mansion into an amusement park. They need to hand over the estate ownership documents at the trial. Unfortunately, over the centuries, the documents have been mislaid. You get to play either Wednesday or Pugsley as you make your way around the house solving the mystery, all in glorious advanced colour, making this the most graphics-intensive release yet for the Nintendo handheld.

FOR BUCKETLOADS MORE GAME BOY GOODNESS, WHY NOT TRY THIS HANDHELD TREAT...

FOXEN! WORLD

WITH HALLOWEEN NEARLY HERE, THERE'S A BUMPER CROP OF SUPER SPOOKY GAMES ON THE WAY TO THE GAME BOY COLOR. BE AFRAID - BE VERY AFRAID!

NEWS

THERE WERE PLENTY of exciting games to be had at this year's ECTS show in London, silencing those fools who insist that the good old Game Boy Color has breathed its last. Up and coming masterpieces include Extreme Ghostbusters, Grenlins, NY Racer and Kirikou, all from Koch Media, and Antz World Sportz and Baby Felix's Halloween from Light & Shadow. So there's no need to give up on the format – there's plenty of life in the old boy yet!

HARRY POTTER & The PHILOSOPHER'S STONE

DEVELOPEREX
PRICE£2599

JK ROWLING'S WORLD-famous little wizard will soon be magicking himself onto the silver screen, and to celebrate there are fantastic adventures starring the Gryffindor hero on both the GBC and the GBA. The Game Boy Color version certainly owes a lot to games like Zelda and Pokémon, but it's the interaction with the characters from the first book that makes this such a superbly intelligent and involving game. There are hundreds of Wizard Cards to collect and swap with mates via the Link Cable, and you learn new spells and gain Experience with each battle you fight. But there are also loads of great mini-games, broom races and complicated puzzles to solve throughout, making this a crucial buy, with hours and hours of brilliant gameplay caught in one tiny cartridge. It's a kind of magic!

SPIDER-MAN 2: ENTER ELECTRO

PUBLISHERACTIVISION
PRICE£2999

AFTER THE MEGA success of the first Spider-Man game on PlayStation, Activision has been pretty quick about following it up with the second one, Spider-Man 2 Enter: Electro.

With the same free roaming style as the first (which allows you to roam all over the ceilings and walls as well as the floor), you have a few new abilities too! You can now aim your webs when you fire them, as well as catch objects in your web and yank them towards you, and there are some top new moves for fighting those bad 'uns. There's also a create your own Spidey area where you can transform Peter Parker and give him new costumes.

Although it has a very similar look to the first Spider-Man game, the entire environment is far more interactive then in the last game. With more detailed areas, as well as some great missions, this game is a big improvement on the last one and will delight Spider and platform fans alike!

X-MEN: MUTANT ACADEMY 2

PUBLISHERACTIVISION
PRICE£2999

TO COMPLEMENT the release of Spider-Man 2, Activision has gone ahead and released another Marvel Comics-based game, X-Men 2.

It's a shame, then, that where Spider-Man 2 improved on the last game, X-Men 2 has fallen far behind. The original beat-'em-up was an average play, and where the follow-up could have improved on this, it has simply copied it word for word. The characters and moves all remain exactly the same, while the additional characters, including Rogue and Havok, bring nothing new to the game and, in some cases (Rogue), seem to be direct rip-offs of other characters! Ho-hum...

REVIEWED!

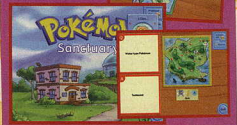

POKÉMON STADIUM 4/5 NINTENDO 64

The first N64 Pokémon game comes with an attachment to connect the console to the Game Boy. The Transfer Pak enables you to upload your very own captured and trained Pokémon and battle them in full 3D on the N64. There are a wide range of cups and challenges to complete and when you are ready you can take on the Gym Leaders. There are nine mini-games too!

POKÉROMS 3/5 PC

PokéRoms are great and teach school curriculum subjects with Pokémon pictures as prizes. Each disc has different puzzles and questions, along with new Pokémon pictures. There are ten discs at present, and with more to follow you should be able to find a favourite Pokémon in the list! Educational fun using Pokémon as treats!

HEY YOU PIKACHU! 3/5

NINTENDO 64

At the end of the day the idea of talking to Pikachu is something of a letdown. Our yellow pal seems to find it very hard to understand a lot of what you say and the games that you get to play with him are very simple and ultimately rather dull. Hey You, Pikachu! is a game which is very novel to begin with, and fun for a while, but which quickly becomes boring.

POKÉMON SNAP 5/5 NINTENDO 64

Pokémon Snap is a highly enjoyable and surprisingly addictive game for the Nintendo 64, which sees you travelling around photographing wild Pokémon in their habitats. Unfortunately, it is completed just a little too easily. On the plus side though, you have every reason to keep coming back again and again to try and improve your Pokémon pictures!

POKÉMON PUZZLE LEAGUE 4/5

NINTENDO 64

This N64 Pokémon game will have you bashing your joypad frantically in a move-blocks-or-die puzzlefest to end all puzzlefests. Crazy addictive, this Tetris-inspired game sparked furious rivalries in the normally mild-mannered Pokémon Womo team, the likes of which haven't been seen since Karen had a clamp-down and banned unicycle racing in the office.

ALL THE BEST

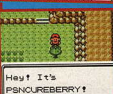

POKÉMON RED/BLUE 4/5 GAME BOY COLOR

In September 1999 Pokémon arrived in the UK and went on to sell over a million copies. A small boy is given his first Pokémon by Professor Oak and asked to catch and train all 151 Pokémon to become a Pokémon Master. You must train your monster to fight and then try to outwit the wild Pokémon hiding in long grass and caves. These games started it all, and are still great to play today!

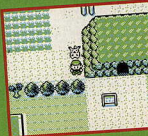

POKÉMON GOLD/SILVER 5/5 GAME BOY COLOR

The follow-ups to the hugely successful Red, Blue and Yellow, these sparkling new Game Boy titles introduce a whole new world to the budding Pokémon Master – the land of Johto. Players must travel around, as before, catching and training Pokémon, but with exciting new features such as real-time play, these new additions are the king and queen of Pokémon games!

POKÉMON YELLOW 4/5 GAME BOY COLOR

After the success of the cartoon series, Nintendo released this follow up to the first two games. Pokémon Yellow is similar to Pokémon Red and Blue only you will receive Pikachu as your very first Pokémon and he will follow you around all the time like the cartoon. You will still need to trade to catch 'em all but other than that, it is almost the same game as Red and Blue.

POKÉMON PINBALL 4/5 GAME BOY COLOR

You're guaranteed serious fun here! The only downside is that, rather than following the ball around the table, the on-screen view flips from the top to bottom, which can make you feel queasy when you're concentrating! The combination of monster-catching and addictive action is a sure-fire winner though – it certainly was a big hit with us! Now, if we could just evolve one more Pokémon...

POKÉMON TRADING CARD GAME 4/5 GAME BOY COLOR

This game includes all the elements of the Wizards card game. Anyone who has played the Trading Card Game will love this Game Boy version as it enables you to practise playing cards without damaging your trophies. For other fans, this could be a great way to learn how to play, but may not be of great interest to all of you Pokémon trainers!

POKÉMON PUZZLE CHALLENGE 4/5 GAME BOY COLOR

Pokémon on the Game Boy isn't just about collecting monsters and working out in gyms, you know – oh no! This backwards-Tetris style game has players busting blocks at manic speed, and is totally and utterly addictive. It's the perfect game to fill the time between bouts of monster battling – but are your fingers fast enough?
