RECORD BREAKER!

THE GAME BOY Advance has broken sales records to become the best-selling videogame platform of all time! The portable gaming device was a virtual sell-out upon release over here and shifted 81,000 units during its first weekend on the market – a figure unequalled in gaming history!

Over in the States, meanwhile, the Advance sold a humungous half a million units in its first week, and with a line-up of games that's looking increasingly impressive, it's no wonder! Priced at £89.99, you might have to save up your pocket money to invest in an Advance, but it's a small price to pay to hold the future of portable gaming in your hands!

CAN I GO AND SUNBATHE NOW?

OUR INTREPID REPORTER MEW HAS TRAVELLED FAR AND WIDE THIS MONTH TO BRING YOU EXCITING TALES FROM THE LAND OF THE RISING SUN, ALONG WITH THE USUAL JUICY NEWS TITBITS!

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF A FOURTH KIND

THE FOURTH POKÉMON movie has been released in Japan, and is entitled Celebi: A Timeless Encounter. Not surprisingly, it focuses on the mysterious 251st Pokémon, Celebi, who also puts in an appearance in the forthcoming Pokémon Stadium 2, and is tantalisingly nicknamed 'the time-travel Pokémon'. The movie also stars Sulcune, the 245th Pokémon, and of course Ash, Brock and Misty, along with a few new faces!

BACK TO THE FUTURE

The plot apparently revolves around a young boy named Yukinari, who ventures into the magical forest which Celebi protects. Here, he meets a young girl named Mika, who tells him he must travel 40 years into the future in order to save the forest, which is in terrible danger. Accompanied by Celebi, Yukinari heads off to find some answers, and meets up with present-day heroes Ash and friends for the adventure of a lifetime!

Whether this movie will ever make it to British soil remains to be seen, but with the third film currently in cinemas across the UK, there's only one way to convince the powers that be that another Pokémon movie is what we want... now grab your popcorn and get down to that multiplex, pronto!

New Faces!

The POKÉMON WORLD office was buzzing this month as news filtered in that Nintendo of Japan and Creatures are working on an intriguing new Pokémon title – for the Game Boy Advance! If rumours are to be believed, the game, due for release in 2002, will be called Pokémon Johto League Championships, and will introduce a whole new Pokémon world – and 100 new creatures!

TALKING JAPANESE

At this stage, all we can really do is speculate as to the nature of the game, and the monsters it might include, but to wet our appetites, Creatures has announced THREE NEW POKÉMON! Their Japanese names are Ruriri, who looks strikingly similar to Marill, Kakureon, a strange amphibian-looking creature and Hoeruko, who, with his big whale-like body and grin, looks very friendly. A new human character has also been announced, although nothing is known about the young boy – not even his name. Will he be the new hero in the next generation of Pokémon games? Only time will tell, but until then, why not enjoy these exciting new images, and try to work out just what the details of each Pokémon might be...

Advance Additions

WHO ARE THOSE WEIRDOS UP THERE?

AS THE GAME BOY ADVANCE hit shelves around the country last month, so too did a whole host of weird, wonderful and jolly useful peripherals. Not ones to miss out, those heroes of handheld peripherals, Mad Catz, unveiled a huge range of exciting additions for the new console, available in a three different colours to co-ordinate with the colours of the Advance.

Amongst the items available are battery grips, multi-link cables (and remember, for certain games on the console, you only need one copy to indulge in multiplayer mayhem), light and magnifier, roll bar and even an MP3 player for the very flash! Keep an eye out for these essential accessories on the shelves of your local gaming emporium in the coming months – after all, your lovely new console deserves a treat once in a while!

The Academy Speaks

There was much celebration at the Game Boy Oskars 2001 last month, as Pokémon swept up awards left, right and centre! Voted for by visitors to top UK gaming site TotalGames.net (www.totalgames.net) and the G-Club site (www.gclub.net) the awards covered a range of categories and were designed to find out just what the best Game Boy titles are. The award for Best Puzzler went to Pokémon Puzzle Challenge, whilst Best Adventure and Best Game also went to Pokémon. Star of the night, however, was one Mr Ash Ketchum, who was said to be 'delighted' at his trophy for Best Actor, and was later spotted elaborating excitedly on his triumph to the evening's Best Actress, Ms Lara Croft.

Handheld History

Nintendo paid tribute to handheld gaming last month in an exhibition charting its history, from the pixelated days of the Nintendo Game & Watch through to the brand-new Game Boy Advance. Taking place in London, visitors to the three-day event were treated to a tour of the greatest moments of handheld gaming over the last 25 years. Our own reporter got so nostalgic, he had to be shut in a darkened room until he stopped humming the theme tune to ancient Eighties TV show Jamie And The Magic Torch...

BRING OUT THE CRYSTAL

THE LATEST ADDITION to the Pokémon family, Pokémon Crystal, is all set to hit US shelves on 30 July, and a release date has finally been pencilled in for us UK Pokéfans. The game should be available here in Blighty in November, coming hot on the heels of Pokémon Stadium 2, so it looks like we'll have something to look forward to once the summer holidays are over after all! In celebration of the game's release over in the States, Nintendo has put together a special limited edition bundle. It contains a kiwi Game Boy Color and a copy of the game which, as we told you last month, will contain cool new gameplay enhancements, like animated battle sequences, and the option to play as a new female trainer. The company is also ploughing $5 million into promoting the game and, with a nation of Pokémoniacs waiting in anticipation, it's pretty likely that Crystal will receive a hearty welcome!

TURN TO PAGE 32 NOW TO FIND OUT HOW YOU CAN GET AHEAD OF THE POKÉLINE AND WIN A COPY OF POKÉMON CRYSTAL!

WIN POKÉMON 3: THE ULTIMATE SOUNDTRACK!

SO YOU'VE SEEN THE film, bought the T-shirt and seen the film again – now isn't it about time you got the soundtrack? Out in the shops now, this cool collection of tunes features music from the hit movie Pokémon 3, and a fine selection of ditties from the Johto Journeys TV series. The enhanced CD also contains three sing-along karaoke tracks, so you can indulge in a spot of warbling, and even two videos. And as if that wasn't enough, the lovely CD people have included an exclusive booklet too, containing all 251 Pokémon in a fold-out poster, plus FREE Merlin Pokémon 2001 stickers in the first 10,000 released.

It certainly sounds like a pretty good package to us, and here at POKÉMON WORLD, we're offering our gorgeous readers the chance to win one of ten copies, courtesy of the fine folk at Koch Records. All you need to do to stand a chance of getting your hands on this monster album is answer this simple question:

Q Which gentle beast stars in the movie?

- A. Entei
- B. Trenty
- C. Barbara

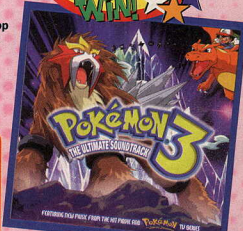

When you think you know the answer, pop it on a postcard or stuck-down envelope labelled 'Pokémon 3 Soundtrack Competition' and send it, with your details, to the address below, making sure it reaches us by no later than 26 August. Good luck!

INSPIRED BY A RECENT trip to his local Odeon (boy, did those people STARE) this month Weedle has turned his online attentions to the third Pokémon movie – and where better to get the lowdown on this cinematic spectacle than at the official US Warner Bros site? Presented in funky Flash animation, this awesome site is well worth a visit, whether you've seen the film yet or not. It has details on the movie's characters, notes on the story, stacks of cool images and even a trailer, for those who are still waiting to see it. Colourful, informative and so fancy-looking even hardened Web explorer Weedle was impressed, this is one site that Pokémon movie moguls just cannot be without!

GREEN WITH ENVY

THOSE LUCKY JAPANESE Pokéfans have all the fun! While we're still busy deciding whether to go for blue, white or see-through for our brand new Game Boy Advance, over in the land of the rising sun they have now been treated to a second special Pokémon edition of the console!

The first limited edition Advance was a light blue colour, themed around the legendary dog Suicune, but the second will be green to reflect the colour of the star of the fourth movie, Celebi. It will feature silhouettes of the mysterious flying feebie, and will cost the same as a normal Game Boy Advance. Honestly, sometimes we seriously consider packing up and moving over there. Not sure about all that far fish though...

WITH THE SUCCESS OF POKÉMON: THE FIRST MOVIE AND ITS FOLLOW-UP, POKÉMON 2000, IT WAS ONLY A MATTER OF TIME BEFORE THE THIRD INSTALMENT OF POKÉMON CINEMA HISTORY ARRIVED. AND HERE IT IS: POKÉMON 3! WE DECIDED THAT, SINCE POKÉMON WORLD IS THE GREATEST AUTHORITY ON ALL-THINGS POKÉMON, WE'D BETTER GIVE YOU A BIT OF A RUNDOWN AS TO WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM THIS LATEST BIG-SCREEN OUTING FROM THE WORLD'S FAVOURITE LITTLE MONSTERS...

ENTEI AT YOUR OWN RISK

Imagine, if you can, a film that stars all your favourite Pokémon from the Pokémon series AND a great many of the 100 'new' Pokémon that you may (or may not) have run into during the course of playing Pokémon Gold and Silver. As everybody knows, seeing the likes of Mewtwo, Pichu and Entei on a big screen would be a dream come true for any major fan of all-things Pokémon. But it can't possibly happen... can it?

Well, yes, it can! Fantastic news reaches us here at POKÉMON WORLD HQ – those little critters are heading for a multiplex near you again! That's right, all your favourite Pokémon will be joined by several new additions to the Pokémon family, including loads of monsters from Pokémon Gold and Silver! How great is that?!

POKEPLOT!

Without wanting to spoil the excitement of Pokémon 3: Spell Of The Unown, we can tell you that Ash, Misty and the gang return, and go in search of a bizarre new form of Pokémon – the Unown. These elusive, powerful monsters take the form of the 26 different letters of the alphabet, and apparently have the ability to turn the dreams of human beings into reality! Spooky stuff, we think you'll agree!

Along with this new strain of Pokémon, fans of the flame-tailed wonder that is Charizard will be overjoyed to learn that our little orange friend is also back in Pokémon 3! Yes, despite disappearing off to the Charcific Valley, Char will be back to help Ash and his friends on their quest.

THAT'S NOT ALL FOLKS!

Not content with doing battle with a whole new breed of Pokémon in the Unown, Ash and the gang also run into several new monsters, such as this month's POKÉMON World cover star, Entel, the fierce lion-like Pokémon who, Meowth assures us, is a big softie really.

While Ash goes off on his quest, it also becomes obvious that the Unown have kidnapped an orphan called Molly, so it's up to our hero to rescue her before the Unown imprison her in a dreamworld forever! To do this, the gang travel to the mountain town of Greenfield, where they encounter the Unown – the most mysterious creatures yet found in the Pokémon universe! The Unown are so powerful that Ash, Brock, Misty and Pikachu even have to seek the help of their great rivals from Team Rocket, and the two sides unite in their battle to save Molly from the Unown. Whoever thought that would happen, eh?

TWO FOR ONE!

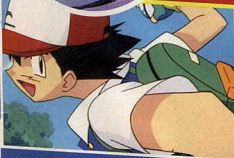

Because those lovely people at Warner Bros are, er, lovely, film-goers seeing Pokémon 3 will actually get to watch two films for the price of one! Yes indeed Pokéfans, there's a whole 22-minute 'mini-feature' before Pokémon 3 entitled Pikachu And Pichu, starring the much-loved Pikachu in his own adventure with the mischievous Pichu brothers. It even boasts a Dixieland jazz-inspired score imported from the original Japanese version! Sounds pretty insane to us, but we're sure it'll be a fantastic addition to the Pokémon 3 experience!

The main reason us seasoned journalists here at POKÉMON World are going a bit nuts for Pikachu and Pichu is that the short film will mark little Pichu's big-screen debut. When we were thrown into a dark cellar and beaten with sticks. What we can tell you, though, is that you've got to see this film – it rocks!

TICKETS PLEASE!

So you've heard what we've got to say, and you've seen all the lovely juicy shots scattered across these pages... but nothing beats the real thing! Pokémon 3 is in cinemas now, so you shouldn't really be sat reading this preview. No, instead, you should be legging it to your local picture palace to take in the many delights of the Unown! Go on, go!

GAMECUBE

POKÉMON: THE NEXT GENERATION!

GET READY TO SEE YOUR FAVOURITE POCKET MONSTERS AS YOU'VE NEVER SEEN THEM BEFORE!

By now, if you're a true Pokémon fan (and let's face it, if you weren't, then you wouldn't be reading this magazine now, would you?) you'll be well aware that there is a whole range of Pokémon games available. We've had several incarnations of the original titles that started it all off on the Game Boy, and there have also been quite a few Pokémon sightings on the Game Boy's big brother, the Nintendo 64.

Now, of course, we've got the new Game Boy Advance, which potentially promises new, super-colourful Pokémon titles, but that's not where the real excitement lies. No, the really cool stuff is going to appear on the machine that's set to take over from the N64. What are we talking about? We're talking about the GameCube!

I HAVE THE POWER!

The GameCube is basically the culmination of all Nintendo's experience in the gaming world so far. It's got the best graphics you're ever likely to have seen on a console to date (and that includes anything you might have inadvertently stumbled across on the PlayStation2 or the forthcoming Xbox) and promises games which are going to take the world – quite literally – by storm. We got a glimpse of this new machine at the ECTS show last year, but it wasn't until the E3 show in Los Angeles just last month that we actually got to see the thing in action and – more importantly – to play it!

Nintendo, and more specifically, the GameCube, was the undisputed star of the world's biggest videogame show and guess what? Pokémon are already on their way!

SUPER!

The first appearance you can expect to see from our favourite pocket monsters on Nintendo's next-generation super-machine comes in the form of Super Smash Bros Melee. POKÉMON WORLD readers may remember an N64 title called Super Smash Brothers which pitted well-known characters from various Nintendo games against one another in madcap four-player combat, including – of course – that ultra-cute furball Pikachu.

The object of the game was to pummel your opponents repeatedly, knocking them all over a gorgeous themed arena until they simply couldn't take it any more and fell off the sides. Super Smash Bros proved incredibly popular, although some hardcore beat-'em-up fans got a bit sulky about the fact that it wasn't so much skill as more luck – and a talent for hammering buttons as fast as possible – which was required to triumph.

SMASHING!

The GameCube version of Smash Bros is basically a revamped, ultra-enhanced version of the N64 title. The characters in the game each have a massive range of signature moves (from Pikachu's electrical powers to Jigglypuff's hot-air based flight abilities) and they can also utilise any of the 30 or so weapons and objects that pop-up throughout the game.

We played this title at E3 and quite simply - it's awesome! You won't have seen Pikachu looking as good as this... ever! The gameplay is fast and ridiculously furious, and every character in the game looks so lifelike that you almost expect them to leap out of the screen and start battling each other in the room with you!

Those of you that are more into the collecting and training aspect of Pokémon than anything else might not find Super Smash Bros Melee quite your cup of tea, but if the thing that you like best about the game is the combat, then you're going to absolutely love this title!

LOVELY, CREAT!

Of course, Super Smash Bros Melee is just the first in what promises to be a long line of GameCube Pokémon and Pokémon-related titles. When the machine was first unveiled around this time last year, one of the demos which was used to show the graphical and musical power of the GameCube console was something called Meowth's Party. This was basically a rolling demo which showed Meowth playing funky guitar music alongside a whole mess of his Pokémon buddies!

Nintendo has so far been fairly tight-lipped on the subject of Meowth's Party, stating that it was simply a demo created to show off the GameCube's power. However, nearly all the other demos that were shown at the same have since been confirmed as GameCube titles in development (Metroid and Rogue Squadron to name just two) so there's a very good chance that Meowth might still get to have his party after all!

ENTER THE PIKMIN!

It's not just Pokémon that we've got to look forward to on the GameCube – there are in fact several titles already in the pipeline which will probably appeal to fans of the little pocket monsters too! One of those is Pikmin. The story behind this game tells of an intrepid space traveller who crash-lands on a mysterious planet and must recover the bits to his spacecraft if he ever hopes to escape. All sorts of nasty alien creatures threaten his quest, but luckily for our plucky pilot, hope is at hand in the guise of the Pikmin, little plant creatures who are far more complex than they first appear. Players can control the Pikmin individually, in groups or as one massive pack with more than 100 different characters on the screen at any one time!

The key to the game is the powers that the Pikmin possess. Being plants, if you stick them in the ground and leave them for a bit then they start to grow, sprouting leaves and eventually flowers given enough time. With each transformation, they develop different powers, and it's these powers that are the key to winning the game. Graphically the game looks awesome, and the music is some of the weirdest we've ever heard, making this title one to definitely watch out for!

GHOSTS!

Nintendo's most famous character (well, next to our little monster friends, anyway) Mario has yet to be announced in a game for the forthcoming GameCube. However, his brother Luigi is set to appear in one of the launch titles. Luigi's Mansion finds the little Italian plumber with the green outfit in a bit of a fix, having just inherited a gorgeous house which turns out to be haunted by some rather unfriendly ghosts. If Luigi wants to sleep peacefully, he's gonna have to do a spot of ghost-busting!

The object of this game is to search the huge mansion and capture the roaming ghosts with – of all things – a vacuum cleaner. The emphasis is obviously on the gameplay, but from what we've seen of this game there's also a fair amount of focus on humour too, as Luigi stumbles around in the dark with only a torch to light his way. The most impressive thing about Luigi's Mansion so far is the amazing lighting effects. Both the ghosts and the torch that Luigi wields look so realistic that you'd almost be forgiven for thinking they were real! Definitely another one for the 'must have' list.

THE FUTURE'S BRIGHT...

Everything we've seen for the GameCube so far promises that Nintendo's new console is going to be something very, very special indeed. No news as yet about a version of Pokémon Stadium for the machine, but one of the GameCube's big selling points is the fact that it's going to be extremely compatible with the Game Boy Advance, with direct communication between the two machines a certainty. This potentially opens up a massive range of possibilities – imagine up to four players taking part in pitched Pokémon battles with their GBA-trained pocket monsters via the fantastic power of the GameCube. Are we looking forward to the console's launch early next year? You bet we are!

Pokémon Gold & Silver

Guide

Part 5

At last, at long last, you're facing the end of your immense journey to become the Ultimate Pokémon Master of Kanto and Johto. Let's get it over with!

CHILLY ROAD AHEAD

YOU'RE GETTING CLOSER and closer to the end now. Are you sure you're ready for the Elite Four? Got a good Pokémon collection, with at least one at Level 50? You'd better have, or it's going to be a long and boring struggle. Last time we left you hovering on the brink of victory, searching for that final Trainer Badge. To get this, you're going to have to get past the Ice Path, through the cave at the end of Route 44. Just like in the Mahogany Town Gym, there's gonna be a hell of a lot of slipping about before you're done here, but it's worth it, as you get the chance to pick up some great bonuses and catch some super Pokémon! The second massive patch of ice, which you'll reach after going up and down some steps, is a bit of a headache. Head for the upper-right corner of the square, then down, left, up, left, down, right, down, right, up and right. Then it's onto the next patch if you want to learn the Waterfall move. Enter the patch from high up, then up, left, down, left, up and right. There's the crucial Waterfall HM for you! But you ain't done yet...

Now it's a nasty boulder puzzle for you, young feller-me-lass. To be honest, there's nothing too exciting to pick up through here – Max Potion, Full Heal, Iron, PP Up, and the Rest TM. But you have to get through to reach Blackthorn, so push on! You're going to have to experiment a little with the boulders to get the four crucial stones through the square holes to make the necessary pattern down below, and reach the lower levels of the cave. Once you've got through all that (very easy, except for the incessant flipping attacks!) you should be ready to move on. Unless you desperately want to clog your Pack up with Iron and all that, head straight for the exit!

Blackthorn City

There's a nice chap in a house here who will trade a female Dragonair for a Rhydon, if you're in the mood. There's also a place here where your Pokémon can unlearn HM moves, which could come in handy, especially for trading with Red, Blue and Yellow, where many moves don't exist. Also, on Saturdays, head southeast from the Gym and you should meet a man named Santos, who will give you the Spell Tag, for powering up Ghost-type attacks. Once you're done with all the chores in the Gym, Professor Elm will call you home, but there's no rush if you've got a few loose ends still to tie up. Otherwise, you're going home at last!

Blackthorn City Gym

Leader Clair: Dragonair (37), Dragonair (37), Kingdra (40), Dragonair (37)

TO BE HONEST, the very final Gym leader in Johto is a pushover after some of the battles you've faced. It's just getting through the Gym itself that's a nightmare. The trainers are rather sharp, and you have to set up the path to Clair via the boulder/hole trick again. But even once you've got through all this, Clair won't give you your reward! The lazy lady orders you to fetch the Dragon Fang from back outside first! Out you go, to surf over to the cave mouth behind the gym. You'll have to use Whirlpool to get through to the crucial Fang in the area up ahead. Once you've done this unnecessary task, Clair lets you keep your booty, as well as the crucial Raging Badge, (that allows you to use Waterfall out of battle, and makes all Pokémon obey you without question!) and she also lets you have the Dragonbreath TM.

Home Sweet Home

WHAT A NICE homecoming gift! Fly home and Professor Elm gives you a catch-without-fail Master Ball! Very nice, but you've still got a long journey ahead. (Does this game never END?) Surf east onto Route 26, making sure you're prepared for some tough battles. Halfway along you'll have to make a detour through a cave making use of the Waterfall move. Fortunately, on the other side of the cave, there's a house where a lovely lady will heal all your Pokémon, seeing as the greatest challenge of them all lies just ahead, after an exhausting trek through Route 27, the longest journey of the whole blimmin' adventure!

Victory Road

Enemy: Sneasel (34), Magnetron (35), Golbat (36), Haunter (35), Kadabra (35), Meganium/Typhlosion/Feraligator (38)

ANOTHER THING YOU need to do to reach Indigo Road, and the Elite Four. There are some great monsters to catch here, if you can get a handle on the slippery little gits. A Rhyhorn may just tip the balance against the Elite Four if your Poké-crew are actually quite rubbish, and there are plenty of bonuses to look for if you're in the mood! Otherwise, you've got a rather easy jaunt through to the other side! Except for the fact that your enemy shows up again. If you're really good, you'll get through this battle first time. Wow, you're ready to face the Elite Four now!

GOLD & SILVER GUIDE

THE ELITE FOUR

HERE YOU ARE at last, at what really should be the end of the game. But don't worry about what comes afterwards for now, just concentrate on becoming the Ultimate Pokémon Master of Johto! To stand any chance here you're going to have to have a very strong team, with at least one Pokémon at Level 50 or more, and all of them ideally over 40. If you don't have this, it's going to be a tedious business of battling over and over again to earn more experience and money. You can go back to try and get these by fighting wild Pokémon, but the best policy (if the most boring) is simply to scrap your way through the Elite Four (actually, it's FIVE!) over and over again, learning every second of the unchanging battles, until it becomes second nature to get through to the end. This can take hours and hours. Also, the important thing here is to make sure that you have an unbelievable amount of Revives, PP Ups, Potions and other energy replacements, plus any amount of handy battle tools. This is going to cost a fortune, so you'll have to keep beating the first few trainers many times to save up enough cash to fill your pack up to the desired level.

WILL

Xatu (40), Exeggcuter (41), Slowbro (41), Jynx (41), Xatu (42)

AFTER A WHILE, this four-eyed nuisance becomes a bit of a pushover. Xatus die in one with a good Thunderpunch, or other strong Electrical move.

Exeggcuters wilt under a good Fire move, and the Jynx will go in one with the same treatment. The Slowbro is the trickiest character here – use your strongest protected Pokémon, and just keep plugging and plugging away at the over-protected slob until he's dead as a dodo. Then ignore Will's musings and move on.

KOGA

Ariados (40), Foretress (43), Muk (42), Venomoth (41), Crobat (44)

KOGA WOULD BE a walkover, if he wasn't so blooming sneaky. Between constant evasion, annoying use of Max Potions and infuriating Baton Passes from the silly spider Ariados, this makes for a dull battle every time. That said, Foretress is down in one with a good Fire move, Crobat and Venomoth can't cope with Fire or Electricity and Ariados is easily got rid of if you're quick enough. Your main problem is getting poisoned and, of course, the Psychic move, which can kill a weaker Pokémon with one move. Get in there first though, and Koga's down!

BRUNO

Hitmontop (42), Hitmonlee (42), Hitmonchan (42), Onix (43), Machop (46)

THIS EMPTY-HEADED BEEFCAKE looks like Bill Clinton and won't cause you too much stress as long as your Pokémon are still on top form – a good time to dip into the Poké Pack! That said, his tough-looking Pokémon don't really stand much of a chance against really strong special moves. Their kick and punches can do real damage, but use your most powerful monsters, and even Onix won't last very long, especially against Electrical moves.

KAREN

Umbreon (42), Vileplume (42), Gengar (45), Murkrow (44), Houndoom (47)

KAREN IS A powerful trainer, but if you've trained a few of your group to around Level 50, you can win through just by brute force, and her all-too solid Grass Pokémon will faint easily. Burn

A WHOLE NEW WORLD!

OH NO, IS there really more? You'd better believe it – you've got the whole world of Kanto, from Red, Blue and Yellow, to conquer now! You've been here before, folks, so we won't waste too much time on taking yourself round the old place, especially as there's hardly anything to do in any of the cities and towns but fight – let's just see who you're going to scrap, and how to beat 'em! Well, once you get there, anyway!

S.S. AQUA

YOU'LL GET THE ticket to this souped-up steamer from Professor Elm back in New Bark Town (hope you dropped in on your Mum, she's so proud!). Stupidly, the ship only sails from the fine city of Olivine every Monday and Friday, so you may need to wait around a bit before setting off for Vermilion. Always room for a bit more EXP for them Pokémon of yours! Once you board the S.S. Aqua, there are loads of trainers to sharpen your wits on. On your first journey, there's also a little detective work to be done. You have to find one gentleman's little daughter, in order to get the Metal Coat, which powers up Steel moves. To save the little lady, pop next door and beat the nasty sailor there. The little girl's downstairs in the Captain's room. Don't ask us why!

LANCE

Gyrados (44), Fragonite (47), Charizard (46), Dragonite (47), Aerodactyl (46), Dragonite (50) NOT THIS PONCY Dragon-flaunting fool again! There's no denying that his Pokémon are pretty highly trained, but if you've got this far, you should have at least a couple of monsters at a higher level than his top Dragonite! If you haven't got an Ice-type Pokémon, though, this battle will be a drag and a half! There's no real way to explain how to reach victory here – just be as strong as you possibly can, and face out Lance with your superior Pokémon power. Hello there, Mr or Mrs Ultimate Pokémon Master!

VERMILION CITY GYM

Leader Sgt Surge: Raichu (44), Electrode (40), Electabuzz (46), Electrode (40), Magneton (40)

AFTER THE ELITE Four fiasco, this military monkey's Electric attacks should be like wet stuff off a duck's spine to you. Once you've got yourself the Thunder Badge, there are a few things to check out in town. Get the Expn Card from the Power Plant to wake up the Snorlax outside Diglett's cave, via your Poké Radio. Once you've done all you want to do, it's time to head for Saffron City!

SAFFRON CITY GYM

Leader Sabrina: Espeon (46), Mr. Mime (46), Alakazam (48)

TO GET TO this elusive female trainer, you'll need to follow this route through the teleporters: upper right, upper left, lower left, lower left. Don't worry about the trainers – they're all rubbish compared to you. Her Pokémon are quite hard, but don't do well against Dark-type Pokémon in particular. She'll give you the Marsh Badge, which is lovely. Later on in this otherwise-dull city, after you've returned the power, get the Clefairy Doll from the Pokémon Fanclub in Vermilion City and return it to the Copycat girl near the Route 7 entrance here, in order to finally get your rail pass. Lavender Town is barren, so next make your way round to Cerulean City. There's nothing to do but lazily battle your way round here, through Routes 7, 8, 9, 10 and the Rock Tunnel (not necessarily in that order).

them now! Even Houndoom can't hold a candle to a Fire Pokémon of a higher level. By now, though, you're bound to be exhausted, and there's one more trainer to face! Which is why you're going to need a lot of Revives and Potions, and, therefore, a lot of cash!

GOLD & SILVER GUIDE

CERULEAN CITY GYM

Leader Misty: Golduck (42), Quagsire (42), Lapras (44), Starmie (47)
THERE'S A FILTHY Team Rocket fleet around, and he's standing in poor old Misty's place at the Gym! He'll do a runner, so you'll have to follow him to Route 24. He's easily thrashed, though, and once you've brought him to justice, you'll get the missing Machine Part to finally get the Power Plant back in working order. This allows you to complete many other tasks, and gets the Train back in working order, allowing you to travel between Johto and Kanto at will.

When you finally get Misty on her own ('Buzz off, creep!') make swift shift of her Poké-team and grab the Cascade Badge for yourself. Now it's onto Celadon!

CELADON CITY GYM

Leader Erika: Tangela (42), Bellossom (46), Jumpluff (41), Victreebell (46)

ONE THING TO make sure you don't miss on the way here is the trip to Bill's House on Route 25. Bring the old bloke the right Pokémon, and there's an evolution stone in it for you! Anyway, back in Celadon, there are loads of goodies to be had if you're in the mood to look, but otherwise, just go straight to the Gym and burn up Erika's silly Grass Pokémon with no further ado. Grab the Rainbow Badge and the Giga Drain TM, and you're one step closer to finally ending this massive adventure! Keep up the good work!

FUCHSIA CITY GYM

Leader Janine: Crobat (36), Weezing (36), Weezing (36), Ariados (33), Venomoth (39)

ANOTHER DAY, ANOTHER empty settlement and easy Gym leader to thrash. What with Koga wasting his time in the Elite Four, his daughter's taken over the family business. She's rubbish, but as all the other trainers here disguise themselves as her, you'll just have to beat 'em all now, won't you? You'll have no worries grabbing that Soul Badge and Toxic TM – all their Poison Pokémon are in trouble when matched to a good Fire Pokémon.

HEY YOU PIKACHU!

ON YOUR WAY to Pewter City, you have the chance to get not only a Snorlax (on Route 11, when you've woken him up with your Radio!) and a Diglett or Dugtrio (in the appropriately named cave) but every unoriginal person's favourite Pokémon, Pikachu! The little yellow fellow is to be found on Route 2, but he's so weak you're going to have to try hard not to finish him off straight away. It may be worth persevering though, as two Pichus can get you that most desirable of the Gold and Silver bunch, a little Pichu! If you want to know how one of these is born, ask your Dad.

PEWTER CITY GYM

Leader Brock: Graveler (41), Omastar (42), Rhyhorn (41), Onix (44), Kabutops (42)

BROCK, HE OF the crazy hair and apparently no eyes, is tough for a Kanto trainer, but still putty in your hands, especially with a good Grass Pokémon on duty... and hey, the Boulder Badge is yours! The only other thing worth looking

POKÉMON

YOUR OLD ENEMY jumps on you the second you set foot in this scummy little cave. You'd think his Pokémon would be a bit stronger by now, but never mind. Unless you want to face him at a later date, this is the last time you'll have to bother with this psycho, and it's yet another pushover, unless you really make a mistake. On your way through to Viridian City, there's a nice Souvenir Shop and a Clefairy Dance to witness, if you're in the mood. Now fly away to Viridian City!

VIRIDIAN CITY

Leader Blue: Pidgeot (56), Rhydon (56), Alakazam (54), Gyrados (58), Arcanine (58), Exeggutor (58)

YOU CAN'T HELP but have noticed that the Pokémon above are a bit harder than you've grown used to in Kanto but don't worry, you won't actually get to fight Blue for a while yet! The first time you reach Viridian, all there is to do is check into the Trainer House, where you can re-play the last link-up fight you had. If you didn't have one, then God bless you - you'll just have to put up with Cal, and his three level 50 Pokémon. You'll actually get to face Blue after thrashing Blaine on Cinnabar Island. Blue's team are very strong, and you'll have to be well prepared to take him on, but once you've triumphed, you've got the very last badge. My, you're doing just dandy!

into this city is the chance to catch whichever Legendary Pokémon you missed! Talk to the old chap near the Route 3 exit, and he'll give you the Rainbow Wing (for catching the Ho-oh, Silver players!) or, of course, the Silver Wing (to allow Gold players to catch Lugia!). If you want to venture back to catch these crucial Pokémon, be warned: they'll be at Level 70!

CINNEBAR CITY GYM

Leader Blaine: Magcargo (45), Rapidash (50), Magmar (45)
ONCE YOU'VE SURFED here from Pallet Town, go and have a chat to the dejected looking bloke near the shore: it's Blue! Have a word and he'll buzz off back to Viridian, ready for your penultimate scrap! Now surf over to Blaine's Island, along Route 19, and thrash him with whatever Pokémon you want – he's a loser, dude! Now you've got the Volcano Badge you can go fishing or, even better, zip back to Viridian, carefully beat Blue and then... you're facing the final challenge!

PALLET TOWN

A HISTORIC MOMENT. This is the tiny little neighbourhood where it all began in the first Pokémon adventure. And who's that in the lab? Why, it's the famous Professor Oak! Well, now you've got every Pokémon Trainer Badge in existence, you're pretty famous yourself, Buster! The good Professor will give you the freedom to take the final trek to Mount Silver, and the Final Challenge!

MOUNT SILVER

Red: Pikachu (81), Blastoise (77), Espeon (73), Snorlax (75), Charizard (77), Venusaur (77)

THE ROUTE THAT leads to this infamous precipice is full of some very tough wild Pokémon, but luckily there's also an isolated Poké Centre here. Don't bother making your way up this mountain, though, unless your Pokémon are practically unbeatable – there's a manic challenge ahead! You should have one monster preferably at around Level 80, some really tough fighters, (for finishing off the Snorlax) and no weak links – under 50 EXP will not do here! Make your way carefully up to the highest point of the mountain any which way you can, but don't waste any energy or items – you'll probably need all the Revives and Potions you've got for beating Red!

Just like the Elite Four, there's no particular way to tell you to thrash Red. You'll just have to have been the best darn Pokémon trainer the worlds of Johto and Kanto have ever seen! Only hours and hours and hours and hours of ceaseless battling will allow you to take on the might of the Red and finally become the Ultimate Pokémon Master! But try telling that to your mum when she's calling you down for tea, eh?

THANKS FOR ALL YOUR BRILLIANT LETTERS THIS MONTH!
PLEASE KEEP THEM COMING IN, ALONG WITH YOUR FAVOURITE
POKÉMON JOKES. SO WE CAN ALL HAVE A GOOD GIGGLE! SEND YOUR MAIL TO POKÉMAIL, POKÉMON WORLD, PARAGON
PUBLISHING, PARAGON HOUSE, ST PETER'S ROAD,

STEP TO IT

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
I was reading an issue of your magazine and I came across something called a Pokémon Pikachu Color Pedometer. Of course, being a big Pokéfán, I would like one. But there are a few things I am not sure about. The first is, how much money will they cost, and secondly, which shops will have them in stock?

Yours faithfully,
Lawrence Tudd,
Herts

Hi Lawrence
- thanks for your letter!
The Pokémon Pikachu Color Pedometer is a cool little gadget - we're not surprised you want to get your hands on one! In answer to your questions, you should be able to pick one up for about £30 from any Electronics Boutique store. Happy hiking!

MISSING MONSTERS

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
I am playing Pokémon Silver, and I am currently wandering around collecting all the Pokémon I haven't yet got, but I am having problems finding Gligar, Mantine and Smeargle. Where are they? Please help me find them!

Yours faithfully,
Richard Moore, Birmingham

Right then Richard, we have consulted our terribly wise Gold and Silver expert (well, he likes to think he's wise, and we try not to upset the lad) and have an answer for you. Gligar and Mantine are amongst the Pokémon that are only available in Gold, so you you're going to have to trade for them. Gligar is found on Route 45 in Gold, and Mantine on Route 41. However, Smeargle you can locate - head for the Ruins of Alph and you should find one there!

WATER WORLD

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
I've been wondering, is there an Xploder cheat that would enable my Nidoran to learn Water Gun?
Yours Sincerely,
Marc Macitti, Edinburgh

The Xploder cartridge means that you can give any Pokémon a particular skill. In order for a Pokémon to learn Water Gun, you need to have him in the first position, and then enter the code 0D589035. Incidentally Marc, if you are thinking of buying an Xploder cartridge, they now come fully loaded with all the Pokémon cheats, so you don't even need to worry about entering the code, which is pretty handy!

AMERICAN DREAM

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
May I ask you, are you allowed to swap Pokémon on an English Blue version and an American Silver version. You know Pokémon, so I thought I'd ask! Also, do you know how to get Mew in Silver?
Yours Sincerely,
Martyn Jean-Jacques,
Middlesex

In answer to your first question, Martyn, English and American Game Boy carts are the same, so we can see no reason why you shouldn't be able to swap Pokémon from Blue to an American Silver. As for finding that feline fella Mew in Silver - well, he's still as elusive as ever, and isn't actually in the game! Sorry!

YOU BIG CHEAT!

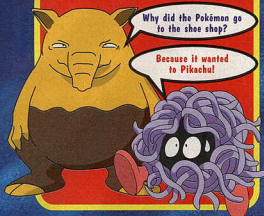

Dear POKÉMON WORLD,
I love your mag, but I think there is one thing missing. How about a cheats page with sections on PC, Game Boy Color, Game Boy Advance, PlayStation, N64 etc. It's just that I have a PC and loads of games,

LAUGHTER FILE

Thanks to Amy Wood of Nottingham for this month's cracker...

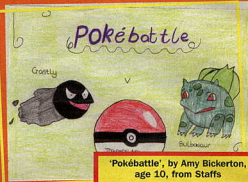

but there aren't any PC cheats that I can find! Thanks, Callum Mclean

Well hopefully by now you're enjoying this month's coverbook, Callum, which is packed with Pokémon cheats and guides. As for PC cheats, well, as there aren't any major Pokémon games on the PC, it's unlikely we'd print them - check out www.totalgames.net, though, and you should find a bundle of PC tips!

GAMEBOY ADVANCE

IT'S THE SMARTEST HANDHELD EVER. AND IT'S IN A SHOP NEAR YOU! THE GBA HAS ARRIVED, AND IT'S BROUGHT WITH IT A WHOLE STACK OF TOP GAMES. CHECK 'EM OUT...

NEWS

WELL, IT'S HERE! Nintendo's new arrival has finally made it across the water from the US into the waiting arms of... well, just about everyone it seems! As Mew reported in the news, the GBA racked up sales of over 81,000 units in its opening weekend, making it the fastest-selling games console ever.

And exciting things are afoot! Plans are well underway for a facility which lets you connect the GBA to a mobile phone! This will allow you to download tips and cheats and potentially play against other people all over the world!

On the games front, developer Rage has a number of GBA titles in the pipeline, including some incredibly addictive puzzle titles and an officially-licensed David Beckham football title – so now you too can get a daft hair-cut and marry a pop-star (well, you can pretend to!)

BOMBERMAN

PUBLISHERACTIVISION
PRICE£34.99

BOMBERMAN HAS LONG been a favourite among arcade game fans, due to the simple yet addictive, insanely fast and furious gameplay. Attempts in the past to add an adventure element to the Bomberman concept have by and large failed, but it looks like someone's finally got it right. Bomberman on the GBA is basically two different games. The first is a Zelda-style adventure where Bomberman must travel around collecting materials for bombs and fighting evil as he explores a huge land populated with strange monsters. The second style of game is classic Bomberman action on a small, rectangular playing field, with up to four human players via just the one cartridge! If you're a fan of Bomberman, then this game is – quite simply – a reason to buy a Game Boy Advance!

GAME OF THE MONTH

Best of the rest

KONAMI KRAZY RACING

PUBLISHERKONAMI
PRICE£34.99
WITH MARIO KART Advance still conspicuous by its absence, Konami has nipped in and taken advantage of the delay in the Nintendo release by putting out its own kart racer, Konami Krazy Racing. The game features characters and tracks from a range of Konami titles, including Mystical Ninja and Metal Gear Solid, and has a loads of options. It looks great!

TONY HAWK'S PRO SKATER 2

PUBLISHER ACTIVISION
PRICE£34.99
WHEN ACTIVISION ANNOUNCED that it would be bringing Tony Hawk's to the Game Boy Advance... well, frankly we were sceptical. Could the GBA provide the graphical and audio capabilities that this title needed to make it playable? Happily... it can! Tony Hawk's Pro Skater is visually astounding, packed with special moves and all the levels and bonuses from the PlayStation2 version – and it handles brilliantly. Don't miss out on this one!

NEWS

MANY YEARS AGO, when Pikachu wasn't even a twinkle in some programmer's eye, kids went mad for a new movie, Gremlins. Cuddly little Mogwais called Gizmos and vicious slinky Gremlins were almost as popular as Pokémon are today! And now the big-eared terrors are back in their own GBC platform adventure, which lets you play Gizmo and Spike The Gremlin as you fight your way through many Christmassy levels. There's still no UK release date for the game, but let's hope it shows in time for Christmas. Bright light!

TOMB RAIDER CURSE OF THE SWORD

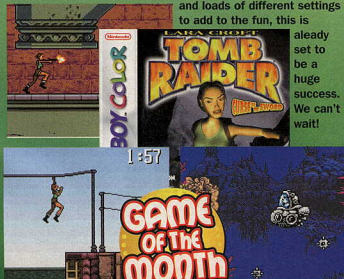

DEVELOPER EIDOS
PRICE £2999

WITH ANGELINA JOLIE busy saving the world as Lara Croft in the new big-screen Tomb Raider adventure, it's about time us Game Boy maniacs once again got the chance to control the lovely archaeologist adventurer! To be honest, the graphics and gameplay haven't changed an awful lot from the last GBC Tomb Raider adventure, but that doesn't matter, because this is an all-new story, with trickier puzzles to crack, harder villains to smash and a nightmare scenario, as Lara has been (possibly mortally!) wounded, and must make her way from the roofs of New York to the swamps of New Orleans to solve the mystery of the Curse of the Sword, and save her skin!

With cool new animations, a massive mission to complete and loads of different settings to add to the fun, this is already set to be a huge success. We can't wait!

WORLD'S SCARIEST POLICE CHASES

WORLD'S SCARIEST POLICE Chases, like all the best games, takes a life threatening situation and puts you in charge of saving the lives of the innocent. It takes the real-life TV show and retains its manic feel and atmosphere – even employing the over-enthusiastic vocal talents of the same maniac who does the commentary on the show!

The mission-based mode gives you objectives to achieve and criminals to apprehend, all made more personal by the background info on every situation given to you by the Sheriff. When you hear how some fired bus driver has hijacked a bus and is careering around with total disregard for the safety of 'innocent citizens' – boy, you sure want to get out there and bust him up for it!

There are masses of good things about this game: there is a two-player co-operative option and a Free Patrol section, the missions are fast and challenging, the frame rate's good and the graphics work well with the kind of wide old Yankee game that this is. As a lighter version of Driver, this game is tops!

MELVIN LIVES in Gothos, a world of magic, mystery, and machines. As a great and fearful evil strikes the land, Marvin is the only chance the people of Gothos have of survival!

Made up of many sub missions and mini-plots, Technomage tries to combine RPG, adventure and platforming elements in one game. This doesn't always work well (the platforming bits are terrible!) but the addictive gameplay great graphics and brilliant story line make this game well worth a look!

SONIC ADVENTURE 2

PUBLISHERSEGA
PRICE£29.99

LET'S FACE IT, the only game any serious gamer is going to give two hoots about this summer is Sonic Adventure 2 – an altogether bigger and better brother to the original. Essentially the game is split into two halves, as you're able to choose whether you play the Hero story, which includes playing as Sonic, Knuckles and Tails, or the Dark story where you get to play the new characters Shadow, Rouge and the evil Dr Robotnik. This in turn is split into three further categories – Sonic and Shadow's stages are based around speed, Knuckles and Dr

Robotnik scrap it out in mech-robots, while Tails and Rouge must search for Chaos Emeralds. When we say that there's absolutely tons to do, we're not joking – as well as a huge number of levels, all of which look absolutely amazing, there's loads of little secrets to uncover and bonuses to find. The best of these are Chao gardens, where you get to raise your very own Chao, and the seriously fast kart game. And on top of all that, you can even indulge in a spot of two-player action – now what more could you possibly want?!

OUTRIGGER

PUBLISHERSEGA
PRICE£29.99

If you've played Quake III and Unreal Tournament then you're going to love Outrigger, because it's first-person shooter action at its finest. As with any FPS, the real fun begins and ends with the multiplayer mode, as you get to run around like a loony blowing your mates sky high with bombs, rocket launchers, sniper rifles and machine guns. Graphically it's flawless, with a stunningly high frame rate throughout, even with a four-player split screen. If you fancy yourself as a bit of a hardman then this is the only game for you.

PLAY YOUR CARDS RIGHT!

A couple of interesting stories this month, including the new VS expansion which is due to be released in Japan shortly. We've also got news on the UK Super Trainer Showdown, and the complete checklist for the new Neo Discovery expansion!

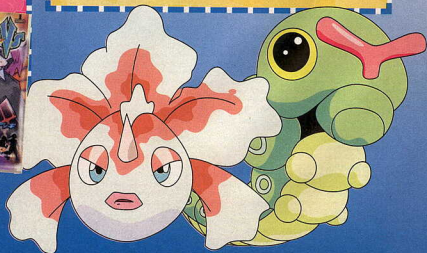

NEW CARD DESIGN

THE LATEST SET of Pokémon trading cards to be released in Japan will have a brand-new design on the back of them. The expansion, called Vs, will feature Neo Pokémon and will centre around the Gym Leaders from Gold and Silver. We are unsure of how many new cards are included in this expansion, but it is sure looking hot, and more news will follow when we manage to track down a few boosters.

SUPER TRAINER SHOWDOWN

WIZARDS OF THE Coast has just announced details on the UK Super Trainer Showdown qualifiers. The event will take place on 15 September at Thorpe Park near Chertsey. At this time we are still waiting on news of exactly what events will take place, and are trying to get all the details of registration. Wizards have asked us to print a registration form in the next issue of POKÉMON WORLD, so keep your eyes peeled if you want to join the fun and have a chance to win a trip to America to play against the world's best trainers.

NEO DISCOVERY CHECKLIST

THE FULL CHECKLIST for the new Neo Discovery expansion has finally been announced. Among the many new cards are several Unowns each depicting a different letter of the alphabet. We are unable to give values and prices at this moment in time but will add them to the price index as soon as we are aware which cards are the most awkward to get hold of.

POKÉMON GAMES REVIEWED!

POKÉMON RED/BLUE 4/5 GAME BOY

In September 1999 Pokémon arrived in the UK and went on to sell over a million copies. A small boy is given his first Pokémon by Professor Oak and asked to catch and train all 151 Pokémon to become a Pokémon Master. You must train your monster to fight and then try to outwit the wild Pokémon hiding in long grass and caves. These games started it all, and are still great to play today!

POKÉMON YELLOW 4/5 GAME BOY

After the success of the cartoon series, Nintendo released this follow up to the first two games. Pokémon Yellow is similar to Pokémon Red and Blue only you will receive Pikachu as your very first Pokémon and he will follow you around all the time like the cartoon. You will still need to trade to catch 'em all but other than that, it is almost the same game as Red and Blue.

POKÉMON PINBALL 4/5 GAME BOY

You're guaranteed serious fun here! The only downside is that, rather than following the ball around the table, the on-screen view flips from the top to bottom, which can make you feel queasy when you're concentrating! The combination of monster-catching and addictive action is a sure-fire winner though – it certainly was a big hit with us! Now, if we could just evolve one more Pokémon...

POKÉMON TRADING CARD GAME 4/5 GAME BOY

This game includes all the elements of the Wizards card game. Anyone who has played the Trading Card Game will love this Game Boy version as it enables you to practise playing cards without damaging your trophies. For other fans, this could be a great way to learn how to play, but may not be of great interest to all of you Pokémon trainers!

GOLD/SILVER 5/5 GAME BOY

The follow-ups to the hugely successful Red, Blue and Yellow, these sparkling new Game Boy titles introduce a whole new world to the budding Pokémon Master – the land of Johto. Players must travel around, as before, catching and training Pokémon, but with exciting new features such as real-time play, these new additions are the king and queen of Pokémon games!

POKÉMON PUZZLE CHALLENGE 4/5 GAME BOY

Pokémon on the Game Boy isn't just about collecting monsters and working out in Gyms, you know – oh no! This backwards-Tetris style game has players busting blocks at manic speed, and is totally and utterly addictive. It's the perfect game to fill the time between bouts of monster battling – but are your fingers fast enough?

POKÉMON STADIUM 4/5 NINTENDO 64

The first N64 Pokémon game comes with an attachment to connect the console to the Game Boy. The Transfer Pak enables you to upload your very own captured and trained Pokémon and battle them in full 3D on the N64. There are a wide range of cups and challenges to complete and when you are ready you can take on the Gym Leaders. There are nine mini-games too!

HEY YOU PIKACHU! 3/5 NINTENDO 64

At the end of the day the idea of talking to Pikachu is something of a letdown. Our yellow pal seems to find it very hard to understand a lot of what you say and the games that you get to play with him are very simple and ultimately rather dull. Hey You, Pikachu! is a game which is very novel to begin with, and fun for a while, but which quickly becomes boring.

POKÉMON SNAP 5/5 NINTENDO 64

Pokémon Snap is a highly enjoyable and surprisingly addictive game for the Nintendo 64, which sees you travelling around photographing wild Pokémon in their habitats. Unfortunately, it is completed just a little too easily. On the plus side though, you have every reason to keep coming back again and again to try and improve your Pokémon pictures!

POKÉMON STADIUM 2 5/5 NINTENDO 64

With a few months still to go until its UK release, this 3D Pokéfest is nonetheless worthy of mention. It follows the same idea as the original Pokémon Stadium, but boasts a whole stack of new features including new tournaments, quizzes and absolutely loads of three-dimensional Pokémon to do battle with. Roll on 1 October, we say...

POKÉMON PUZZLE LEAGUE 4/5 NINTENDO 64

This N64 Pokémon game will have you bashing your joypad frantically in a move-blocks-or-die puzzlefest to end all puzzlefests. Crazy addictive, this Tetris-inspired game sparked furious rivalries in the normally mild-mannered Pokémon World team, the likes of which haven't been seen since Karen had a clamp-down and banned unicycle racing in the office.

POKÉMON'S 3/5 PC

Pokémon's are great and teach school curriculum subjects with Pokémon pictures as prizes. Each disc has different puzzles and questions, along with new Pokémon pictures. There are ten discs at present, and with more to follow you should be able to find a favourite Pokémon in the list! Educational fun using Pokémon as treats!
